

CALL FOR PAPERS FOR AN EDITED BOOK

Dear all,

You will be pleased to know that we are going to edit a book entitled “WOMEN IN INDIA: A DIFFERENT OUTLOOK” with an ISBN: 978-93-84106-68-3 from Saltora Netaji Centenary College, Saltora, Bankura. The book will be published from Sarat Book House, Kolkata within a short period after the last date of submission of manuscripts.

OBJECTIVE:

We invite original papers reflecting multifaceted aspects covering the thrust area of Women's Studies and Embodiment. Nowadays, the study regarding women, which focuses on feminism as an obvious parallelism, absorbs within its domain different features intending empowerment as well as emancipation of women arriving from various areas. This volume will try to provide a greater platform to intensify the exchange of information on results of academic research and case studies in the field of women's studies. This study will range from nature of historical documentation and its gender bias that has made a habit of considering women as a submissive one to the contemporary outlook of viewing women as a complete human being. It intends to address 'that' question of subjectivity in women's history. Simultaneously, discussions will focus on “Empowering Future Generations of Women - Empowering Humanity” by introducing discussions on education, decision making power and securing rights and opportunities for women worldwide.

Papers dealing with the said topic are welcome. Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

- Women and Society in India
- Women and Literature
- Women, Ecology and Environment
- Women and Law
- Women, Politics and Governance
- Women's Rights in India
